

Driving instruction to Marcolina 84 when you come from Valencia.

It will take you approximately 1 hour and 15 minutes driving from Valencia if you take A-7 and AP-7 (Motorway with tolls). From the airport, look for signs marked TARRAGONA (or BARCELONA).

Remember it is forbidden to use mobile phones when you drive, the Police is very strict and you will be fined. Also, be very careful with speeding, there are many speed cameras and a bad way of spending your money!

As you get closer to CASTELLON you have an option to stay on AP-7 (with tolls) or to go around CASTELLON on a free motorway (with no tolls, you will then pass the not opened CASTELLON airport).

As you exit the motorway with signs for TORREBALNCA and ALCOSSEBRE, continue north on the "red" 340 Highway (ordinary road) for approx. 5 minutes, then exit to the right for ALCOSSEBRE.

Now you should be on your way to the Villa in Alcossebre:

Just go straight on, you will pass a petrol station with a smaller shopping center on your right.

After about 2 km at roundabout take 2nd exit signed "Las Fuentes"

After about 2 km pass straight over the roundabout where you take 3rd exit marked "Ribamar" and "Ermita Santa Lucia".

At next Roundabout, just go straight over.

Go to end. At T junction turn left towards "Ermita Santa Lucia".

Turn right at "Marcolina" sign (with rubbish containers on your right).

Well done, welcome!
